PURSES OF $4,000 FOR FALL RACES

Matinee Club Decides to Hold Meet During Horse Show

Joins the American Association and Adopts Rules of That Organization.

PROGRAM OF WEEK'S EVENTS

Definitely deciding to hold races during the horse show next September 24-27 inclusive, the Matinee club met in the Commercial club rooms this morning and estimated that $3,600 would be necessary to finance the meet. To secure this the members themselves will subscribe to the fund and 1,500 or 2,000 season tickets will be sold at $2 each among the merchants and business men. No subscriptions outright will be asked, and it is believed that the business men and others in the city will be glad to make the meet a success by taking the season tickets. It was decided also to join the American association and to place the local track under the rule of that organization. Admission at the gate will be 50 cents and first class starters and judges will be secured from out of town.

Combined, the Matinee races and the horse show will offer cash prizes of $5,500 to contestants. This undoubtedly will be sufficient to attract fine stock owners, as many race horses also are show horses. The horses can be raced in the afternoon and entered in the horse show in the evening. Maj. Lemair Says Soldiers Are Thieves and Women Assaulters.

Brussels, July 13.—Major Lemair, who served eighteen years in the Congo and resigned when he was notified that he would be prosecuted for cruelty towards native soldiers, retaliated today by publishing a sensational exposure of the revolting conditions prevailing in the native army. He declares the soldiers are merely brigands who raid the populace, assault the women and burn villages. The major adds that when he attempted to protect the natives by inflicting severe punishments on the troops, his disciplinary measures were overruled by his superiors.

Permission to Marry.

Nora Leaton qualified as guardian for Lora Gibbs, 18 years old, and granted her permission to marry Noah Adams, of Illinois.

He expressed the determination to sit on the lumber until he sees the train pull out for Paducah with it.

Thousand Volts of Electricity Hold Man to Iron Bar in His Hands

John Dicke, of the Cairo road, the popular Illinois Central tank inspector, was saved from probable death yesterday afternoon at the Illinois Central turntable pit by the prompt and heroic action of Otis Garber, day round house foreman. He was helpless in the power of nearly 1,000 volts of electricity, and Garber saved him before he was too far gone. Mr. Dicke was on the turntable while an engine was being turned around. He picked up a piece of iron and immediately was convulsed. The iron was charged, having connected with the feed wire to the dynamo running the turntable. He could not cry for help and sank to the floor of the table. Garber saw his predicament, and suspecting the cause hurried to him. By force he tore Dicke away from the piece of iron. Dicke's hands and arms were burned, but he recovered after a short while.

KILLS HIMSELF FOR VERY GRIEF

Prof. Oldreive, Water Walker, Swallows Chloroform Be- cause His Wife Died From Burns on July Fourth

THE END COMES AT MEMPHIS.

Memphis, July 13.—Despondent on account of the death of his wife, which occurred on July 7, Capt. C. W. Oldreive, the famous "water walker," reached the limit of human endurance yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and ended his life by swallowing a quantity of chloroform. The effects of the poison, combined with the acute alcoholism from which he was already suffering, caused him to lapse into blissful unconsciousness, from which he was never aroused.

Since his arrival in Memphis from Greenwood, Miss., where his wife died last Wednesday morning, the famous "water walker" was apparently bereft of reason and at times talked most incoherently.

He started from Cincinnati Jan. 1, and was to make the trip in forty days. He was 35 years of age and an American-born Englishman, being a native of Chelsea, Mass. He was educated in Boston and was originally a slack-wire walker.

Prof. Oldreive spent five years perfecting his shoes, which were made of light cedar. His first experience was from the Battery to Boston Lights, in New York harbor, a distance of nine miles, and his ambition was to walk the English channel.

Oldreive made the trip to New Orleans. It was charged by some that he did not walk all the way as stated in press reports, but rode in the motor boat with his wife and the party at night when not passing large cities and places where the people were on the lookout.

Requisition for Phillips.

Requisition papers have arrived in Batesville, Miss., for Charles Phillips, alias Grady, who skipped his bond for malicious shooting there, and was arrested, and officers have started from Mississippi for Paducah to secure the prisoner. Phillips was arrested here this week.

Closing City Hall at Noon.

Beginning today all officials at the city hall closed their offices at noon except the chief of police and police judge. The council recently permitted this during the hot months, July, August and September.

BANK CLEARINGS HOLDING UP WELL

Nearly Twenty Thousand Dol- lars in Excess of Correspon- ding Week Last Year, Not- withstanding Its Record

BUSINESS CONDITIONS GOOD.

Bank clearings	$852,025
Same week last year	832,976
Increase	19,049

Little increase but significantly large, the bank clearings show a satisfactory condition of business. The same week last year was a big one and conditions at that time had no depressing spring behind them, as this year has had. Wheat is now being harvested in as large quantities as were expected, but the yield in the main satisfactory. The tobacco market here is being closed, nearly all the product having been bought up by the brokers, and as the end of the market draws near prices are increasing. This will be the high water mark in the tobacco market from now until it is stipulated in the future. Retail business is fair under the stimulation of the semi-annual clearance sales, and the wholesale situation is improving. The real estate market is picking up but building operations are sluggish.

One of the evidences of industrial life in Paducah, is the substantial character of buildings being erected on Broadway toward the river. The remodeling of these old buildings has improved that end of the business district.

NINETEEN COWS CAUSE OFFICER TO BE CALLED

Nineteen cows were roaming around on Eighteenth and Jefferson street yesterday afternoon and when discovered they were making their way for the pretty flower beds in the residents' yards. Three cows were in Mrs. E. Merrigold's yard and had begun to make a meal off the flower bed. A hurry order was sent to Lycurgus Rice, the cow policeman. The cows belonged to a Mr. Harper, a dairyman, and he had the boys hired to herd the cows on a grass lot near the city, but they grew weary and in the shade of a tree became interested in a game of marbles and forgot the cows. After a short lecture for the negligence of duty the cow policeman allowed them to take the cows and return home.

Horse Runs Away.

Frightened by a moving train, Mr. Taylor O. Fisher's horse ran away this afternoon and demolished the buggy before the horse could be stopped. The horse was standing in front of the Hardy Bugby company, Ninth and Harrison streets, when it was frightened and ran to Eighth and Madison streets and ran into the fence of Mrs. R. Rowland and ruined the buggy. Beyond a few minor injuries the horse was not hurt.

Another German Immigrant.

William Herman, from Austria, arrived today with credentials from the immigration agent, and purchased a farm on the Benton road.

DEFENSE RESTS IN HAYWOOD CASE

State Calls Attorney Caldwell to the Stand

Haywood Admits Some Things But Clears His Skirts of Any Complicity.

MAY FINISH IN TWO WEEKS

Boise, July 13.—The defense in the Haywood trial rested the case immediately after court reconvened today. The state announced the first witness to be John Glee Caldwell, an attorney, who swore Orchard did not have a mustache in November, 1905. There is a prospect that the case may be brought to a conclusion in two weeks. The state expects to close the rebuttal by next Wednesday or Thursday. The defense express the opinion that the sur-rebuttal will be in by Saturday. Under these circumstances the case will be given to the jury by the end of the last week in this month.

Much of Haywood's testimony was a repetition in detail of what Moyer said. Haywood, however, made no effort to deny his knowledge of Orchard and his affairs or his connection with the Simpkins. When pressed closely as to the passage of telegrams relating to the engagement of counsel to defend Harry Orchard, he admitted that he knew Simpkins had retained a counsel but that there was no record of any report from Simpkins to the officials of the Western Federation of Miners. Like Moyer, Haywood had never heard of Orchard's threats against Steuenerberg, though he had never heard Orchard's claim that he had lost his interest in the Hercules mine because of the troubles in Couer D'Alenes. Haywood explained that a draft had been sent to Simpkins for $100 on December 21, 1905, on the ground that Simpkins had left the money with the federation for safe keeping. He had no acknowledgement of the receipt of the money and had not heard from Simpkins since that time. Haywood said that he never told Pettibone that he had sent any money to Simpkins.

Haywood in many particulars confirmed Orchard's story, but where Orchard connected Haywood or the Western Federation with crimes, the witness was very emphatic and prompt in his denials. He showed no hesitation or desire to conceal the fact that Orchard had visited him at his house or that he, on different occasions, had intimate conversations with Orchard. He denounced the administration of Colorado at the time of Colorado at the time of the troubles as corrupt and he extolled the value of the Western Federation. Throughout Haywood rang the notes of antagonism to what he calls the capitalistic class and his confirmed view that by such methods only as those followed by the Western Federation can workingmen hope to control the situation.

Coco-Cola Horse Hurt.

While standing in the lot adjoining the Coca-Cola company's bottling works, Sixth and Jackson streets, the horse hitched to one of the delivery wagons, suddenly became frightened at a crate and started running. Between Adams and Jackson streets he struck the delivery wagon of Marks' grocery and injured himself and did some trivial damage to the wagon. When Kentucky avenue was reached the coco-Cola horse turned and had run half way between Sixth and Fifth streets when it slipped along the smooth bitulithic street for 30 feet. Several small cuts and bruises were sustained by the horse, and a shaft was broken on the wagon.

Will Enforce Rules.

Launch enthusiasts are determined that the government rules shall be lived up to, and will report every gasoline launch without the regulation light signals and bells. The government requires lights to be placed on each side of the boat and a gong to be placed in the launch.

TOBACCO SALES WERE ENORMOUS

A. N. Voal, salesman of the Dark Tobacco Growers' association, held two sales this week with a total of 354 hogsheds sold. Lugs sold for $6 to $8 a hundred, and leaf sold for $8 to $1.50 a hundred. Seventy-five hogsheds of leaf were sold for $11 to $12.50. The sales have exceeded Mr. Voal's expectations and another sale of several hundred will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

One hundred and eighty-one hogsheds were sold at Mayfield yesterday at the same price. Sales will be held again there Tuesday.

S.S.S. FORTY YEARS OF CURES

Long experience and thorough testing have proven S. S. S. to be the King of blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics. For nearly half a century S. S. S. has been used in the treatment of blood and skin diseases of every character, and so satisfactory have been the results that it is now the best known and most widely used blood medicine on the market. S. S. S. attracted attention as soon as it was placed on the market by curing promptly those diseases for which it was recommended, and we have so jealously guarded its first good reputation, by keeping it up to its standard in manufacture, that it now has the unequalled and pleasing record of "Forty Years Of Cures." For Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Malaria, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other diseases due to an impure or poisoned condition of the blood, there is nothing that equals S. S. S. It counteracts and removes the germs and poisons, cleanses the system of all unhealthy matter, cures the trouble permanently, and restores strong, robust health. Where the blood is weak or anemic and unable to nourish the system as it should, S. S. S. supplies it with the needed properties, and being a bracing, invigorating tonic it builds up the entire system. It goes to the very bottom of all blood disorders, and in this way reaches deep-seated and inherited cases on which the ordinary sarsaparillas and tonics have little or no effect. Not only is S. S. S. certain in its results, but it is an absolutely safe medicine. It enjoys the distinction of being the only blood medicine on the market that is guaranteed purely vegetable. If you are in need of a blood remedy begin the use of S. S. S., the medicine that has proven its worth by its record of forty years of cures. Book on the blood and any medical advice you wish. No charge for either.

tense bitterness, "but what is the use of trying to get such a name as Prairie-Dog-Afraid-of-His-Rattlesnakes into print these days, in the face of the constantly growing prejudice of the profane against the use of the hyphen?"—Chicago Tribune.

ONE TRACK RECORD BROKEN

THE WINNERS.

Class C Pace—Dick S., owned by W. S. Smith, driven by A. S. (Gus) Thompson.

Class B Pace—Ella Mack, owned and driven by Ben T. Frank.

Mixed Pace and Trot—Blackwood, owned by Ben T. Frank, driven by Virgil Sherrill.

Special Match Pace—Harry A., owned and driven by Ben T. Frank.

THE JUDGES.

Hon. Charles K. Wheeler, Stewart Dick and George C. Wallace, Starter, Wynn Tully, Timers, John Keller and Stewart Dick.

Although a late start was made, and starters failed to score nicely, some good racing was enjoyed at the Matinee club races at the fair grounds yesterday, on account of the delay occasioned by a punctured tire, and a broken sulky, one race was scratched entirely, and no running race with gentlemen riders was seen. The special match race was run last, and it was 6:30 o'clock when the crowd left the grand stand, hungry, but satisfied with the sport. One feature was the breaking of the track record for a mile pace in a regular race, which was accomplished by Harry A. against Directly Boy. Harry A. did the first mile heat in 2:17, and the last in 2:18. The record was 2:18.

Racing started at 3 o'clock, with the track fast and grand stand well filled.

Class C Pace.

First heat—Dick S. jumped out, with advantage of the pole, with a good lead and was followed in order by Red Rock and Bessie Mack. Bessie Mack was climbing steadily on Red Rock when she broke and lost her chance. Dick S. broke once on the stretch but soon recovered with little ground lost. They finished Dick S., Red Rock and Bessie Mack, Time, 1:14.

Second heat—Dick S., again with the pole, started away with the advantage followed by Red Rock and Bessie Mack. Dick S. and Red Rock broke in succession and Bessie Mack took second place from Red Rock, but failed to catch Dick S. before the wire was reached, and when on the stretch broke again and Red Rock pulled in a few heads in the lead. Time, 1:17.

Class B Pace.

Starters: Gus B., owned and driven by Tom Stahl; Tobe Scott, owned and driven by George Goodman; Brook Hill, owned and driven by A. S. Thompson; George Starr, owned and driven by Dr. Ed Farley; Ella Mack owned and driven by Ben T. Frank; and Dyersburg, owned and driven by Hunt. Sarah McGregor, scratched.

First heat—Brook Hill took the lead from Gus B., the pole horse, with ease and was followed by Gus B., Ella Mack, George Starr, Tobe Scott and Dyersburg. The starters were well bunched, however. Dyersburg broke and was followed by George Starr, then Tobe Scott, and on the stretch when doing some good stepping, Brook Hill went up in the air and Ella Mack came in several lengths ahead of others, followed in order by Brookhill, Gus B., Tobe Scott, Dyersburg and George Starr. Time, 1:12.

Second heat—Ella Mack, with advantage of the pole, was followed by Gus B., Brook Hill, Dyersburg, Tobe Scott and George Starr. Brook Hill broke and Dyersburg passed him. Dyersburg made a brilliant dash and scored ahead of the bunch, followed by Tobe Scott, Brook Hill, Ella Mack, Gus B. and George Starr. Time, 1:14.

Third heat—Ella Mack took the lead from Dyersburg on the first turn and was followed by Dyersburg, Brook Hill, George Starr, Gus B. and Tobe Scott. Dyersburg and Brook Hill broke and Ella Mack took a safe lead, having no trouble in maintaining it. They finished Ella Mack, Gus B., Brook Hill, Dyersburg, George Starr and Tobe Scott. Time, 1:13.

First heat—Starters got off in order of Blackwood, Sam Patch, Billy Buck and J. T. well bunched, with J. T. a little back in the rear. Sam Patch broke with Blackwood well in the lead and Billy Buck bringing up several lengths in the rear. Billy Buck made a desperate effort to forge ahead but the black horse's gait was too steady and sure. They finished Blackwood, Billy Buck, J. T.

Second heat—Starters got away well bunched and fought every inch of the course, Harry A. finishing a length to the good. Time for the mile, 2:8.

What Englishmen Read.

To my relief there are no one-hundred-page Sunday papers here. The only news from America in the papers is about how Buffalo Bill chases desperadoes, or how masked men held up and robbed travelers in Colorado, or how a bank was broken into in Arizona; and I suppose this accounts for a shopkeeper telling me that we have only one or two trains a day over there, and for his asking me if I always carry a revolver when I travel in America. Nearly all the papers given pages to crime, and the magazines are full of detective stories. People do not subscribe to magazines by the year as freely as we do. They say it's extravagant, and in some cases they're right.—Bohemian.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the mind of any that dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

Accept no substitute. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. W. B. McPherson, Special Agent.

The Week In Society.

FLIRTATION.

What is flirtation? Really how can I answer that? Yet when she smiles I see its wiles, And when he lifts his hat.

'Tis meeting in the ball-room, 'Tis whirling in the dance; With something hid beneath the lid Beside a simple glance.

'Tis walking in the hallway, 'Tis resting on the stair; 'Tis bearded lips on finger tips (If mamma is not there.)

'Tis going out for ices, 'Tis buttoning on a glove; 'Tis lips that speak of plays next week And eyes that talk of love.

'Tis tucking in a carriage, 'Tis asking for a call; 'Tis lifted eyes and tender sighs, 'Tis hints—no not all.

'Tis parting when 'tis over, And one goes home to sleep; 'Tis friends, best joys must end But one goes home to weep.

A Review of the Week.

Society, like everyone else, sweltered this week, and few entertainments were given. Only launch parties and a few other informal affairs were given during the week. The chief event was Miss Anna Louise Keller's dance Tuesday evening at the Wallace park pavilion and it was one of the largest attended dances of the season. With this exception society rested.

Vacations are planned, and while many are away, next week will see the departure of many more. This week several charming visitors left for home, and the boys of the city have missed them. But with the cool spell now on, at least a promise of it to continue, society may become active next week.

Miss Keller's Dance.

One of the most largely attended dances of the season was the dance given by Miss Anna Louise Keller, in honor of Miss Anne Stripling, of Fort Worth, Texas, on Tuesday evening at Wallace park. ### Flourishing Clubs for Women.

There are in London nearly 300 clubs devoted to the interests of society the services (army and navy), art, letters or sport. Their aggregate membership is upward of 20,000. Thus London, according to Town and Country, not only produced the first club, but still maintains its lead. The first club was established at the end of the sixteenth century at the Mermaid Tavern. Shakespeare was one of the leading members.

When Shakespeare died Ben Jonson set up another club at the Devil's Tavern, and the work has gone on ever since. One of these early organizations, White's, is still flourishing. It was formed in 1637 and until forty years ago actually without a rival. To be seen in the famous bow window of White's was a social asset which was universally recognized.

The most expensive club in London at the present time is the Naval and Military, nicknamed the "In and Out" from the inscription on its gateway. The entrance fee is £50 and the annual subscription is £10. The building in which its 930 members meet is an old one and was originally the town residence of the earl of Egremont.

The oldest service club in London is the United Service, commonly known as the "Senior." It was founded in 1815, the year of Waterloo, and opened premises in Charles street. In 1828 it moved to its present premises in Pall Mall, spending close upon £100,000 on the change.

Its entrance fee is £30, with an annual subscription of £10, and its membership includes the Duke of Connaught, Earl Rogers, Lord Kitchener, Lord Wolsley and Sir John Fisher. Among its honorary members are Mr. Chamberlain, the czar of Russia, the emperor of Germany and the khedive of Egypt.

The "Senior" resists all the encroachments of modernity. When it was proposed to install electric light and lifts in the building a revolt almost resulted in consequence of the proposed plan.

Other service clubs include the Guards, a most strict institution which forbids the admittance of strangers or the playing of round games of cards; the Army and Navy, nicknamed "The Rag," which ruthlessly blackballs would be sufficient to disqualify at the ballot; the Junior United Service, which costs nearly £200,000 to a house in its present style; the Cavalry, with its 1,400 members; and the Junior Naval and Military club.

Among the political clubs the chief are the Carlton and the Reform. The entrance fee to each is forty guineas, and the annual subscription ten guineas. The membership of each lies between 1,500 and 2,000, in addition to vast sums contributed to it of the wheels of the political machine. The social status of many subscribers to these elaborately equipped mansions is frequently modest.

London's largest political club is the Constitutional, in Northumberland avenue. Its complexion is Conservative, and it houses nearly 7,000 members, who pay fifteen guineas entrance fee and seven guineas each year as subscription. This is run very closely by the National Liberal club, with a membership of 6,000 and slightly cheaper fees.

The Junior Constitutional, strictly conservative, has 5,000 members; the United Empire, devoted to the advance guard of tariff reform, also enjoys a membership of 5,000, while the Junior Carlton, the Junior Conservative and the Conservative record respective memberships of 2,100, 3,500 and 1,200.

In social clubs London is especially rich. There are the Bath Club, in Dover street, which combines sport with social intercourse, and charges an entrance fee of £20 for the privilege, which has attracted a membership of 2,500; the Wellington, purely social, with 1,400 members, and an entrance fee of £20; the Union, another social organization, with a roll of 1,250 members, and the Bachelors, which approximately admits ladies to see its 1,000 supporters.

Science possesses the Athenaeum, with 1,200 aged members. Then there are the United University and the Oxford and Cambridge clubs, restricted to the universities, both with very large memberships. And these are not all.

King Edward is a member of a dozen of the best clubs in London, embodying social, sporting, dramatic, military and literary. A political club he may not join, and in the vast field of social clubs his choice is limited.

The membership of the club chosen by the king must be most select, because in club life his majesty abrogates his royalty. At his own desire he is treated like any other member except that his privacy is always respected and he retains the kingly privilege of making conversation.

In all the clubs of which the king is a member, it is always understood that any candidate recommended by his majesty is elected without the ordeals of the ballot. Of course, the king's visits to his clubs are rare, since the duties of the throne usurp the major portion of his time, and nowadays his membership is mostly honorary.

The king's favorite club is the Marlborough, which is made up of 500 selected members who pay an entrance of 30 guineas. It is situated in Pall Mall, near Marlborough House, and he belongs to four other neighboring clubs—the Guards, the Army and Navy, the United Service and the United University. He is also a member of the Savage club, London's great home of upper Bohemianism in the Adelphi, the Turf, the Garrick, the Royal Thames and the Cavalry.

In London there are nearly thirty ladies' clubs. There are the Pioneers, which until recently was the most advanced of all women's clubs; the Seaside, for political debating; the Empress, which attracts the Colonies; the Lyceum, with 3,000 members, literary and dramatic; the Ladies' Army and Navy, with its great smoking room and its 3,600 members; the Imperial, the New Victoria, the Ladies' Athenaeum, the Alexandra and the Camp club.

Thus there is plenty of support forthcoming when one asserts that club life is essentially English. It is the Englishman's second home, and is responsible for many lifelong friendships by drawing and uniting together those who have interests in common. This second home of the Londoner costs him an annual contribution of £120,000 exclusive of the enormous sums spent in gastronomy and liquid refreshment.

The mention of matters gastronomic may serve as an introduction to the Whitefriars' club a dining club for men in the profession of journalism, or in the arts and letters. It originated half a century ago in the railway restaurant, then moved to more hospitable quarters in a hotel in Fleet street, in the near vicinity of the newspaper offices with which that thoroughfare is crowded.

The members in residence number 100, with about half that number of non-resident members. A weekly dinner has been the feature of the club from the first day of its existence, affairs to which each member or Friar may bring one or more guests. There is also some distinguished person present as the official guest of the club.

Men of the greatest prominence in literary, artistic and political circles have held this position, the prime requisite of which is the making of an after dinner speech. The American ambassador is usually invited during his term of office, both Mr. Hay and Mr. Reid having been thus honored. The Right Hon. A. J. Balfour was guest under the presidency, or priorship, as it is called, of Anthony Hope.

REAL UNWRITTEN LAW.

Maryland comes forward with the only real, dyed-in-the-wool, yard-wide case of acquittal under the unwritten law; but we fear our hysterical contemporaries have so exhausted themselves and the subject that they will be unable to do the case justice, even if they take the trouble to notice such a trite subject. Hubert Posey betrayed Priscilla Bowie, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Bowie, and her brother, Henry Bowie, killed Posey, and declared to the jury they did what was right. Now, that was putting it right up to a jury of their peers, and the jury did just what any other twelve jurymen would have done—set them free. Unwritten law is just a fancy name for public opinion. Public opinion excused (not justified) those people, on account of their tremendous provocation.

There is a wide difference between this case and those others so often referred to of late, as embracing the unwritten law. In the other cases, lawyers attempted to "justify" the conduct of their clients by the unwritten law, and pleaded it as a defense, along with insanity, "brain storms" and self-defense.

In this instance these people asserted their sanity, deliberation and guilt, and did not attempt to justify their crime. They were guilty of willful, premeditated murder and did not flinch from the accusation. They merely relied on the feeling of humanity that warms in the breast of every man, who esteems his manhood and the womanhood of his women, and they did not trust in vain.

Whether the unwritten law will be extended to justify the taking of human life under certain circumstances we can not say. It will depend on whether misdirected newspapers and designing criminal lawyers succeed in reducing public opinion to subservience to base human passions.

Verdicts of juries do not set precedents for the guidance of courts. No court will ever charge a jury as to the finding in this case. No lawyer for the defense will be permitted to read the verdict of the jury in the Bowie case to guide the court and jury in the disposition of his client. The court will stick to the law in the case, the lawyers will be limited to producing the facts in the transaction and the jurymen will be left to wrestle with the problem, according to their lights and the dictates of their own consciences, unaffected by the action of any other jury.

Early preparation for the horse show indicates enthusiasm and interest on the part of the promoters, which must reflect a general state of expectancy. Paducah will give western Kentucky a show worthy of the state, and horse breeding an impetus, calculated to foster the state's pride.

Recollection of Orchard's testimony confirms our faith in the theory of a gigantic conspiracy to murder Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho; and the testimony of Haywood and Meyer convince us that Orchard was mistaken in the identity of the co-conspirators. Could it have been a Japanese plot? It's the only theory that will harmonize the statements of these three worthy gentlemen, and the slaughter attributed by Orchard to himself and others, is quite worthy of a Jap's powers.

Every suggestion that is presented to the president is supposed to be taken under consideration by him. This is because the donor of the suggestion walks down the steps of the white house and tells the reporters stationed outside just what he has suggested to the president or a member of the cabinet. We have it straight that President Roosevelt is considering the advisability of recommending to congress the purchase of shares in each of the big railroads, in order that the government as a stockholder, and, therefore, personally interested, may ask for a receipt at any time to wind up illegal combinations. It was given out previously on no less excellent authority than a subordinate in the department of justice, that receivers for all the big trusts were to be asked for by the government, and this clerk assured the newspapermen that the attorney general had sanctioned this procedure. Then it was observed by some lawyer, that the government was not such an interested party as to be in a position to demand a receipt and an accounting. This purchase of railroad stock followed as a matter of course. Now, Attorney General Bonaparte is not imparting such information as that to the public, neither is the president giving out the opinion that Harriman can not be prosecuted. News is dull down Washington way.

It's odd, how impossible it is for an officer to arrest a common drunk without the newspaper reporters finding it out; while they can arrest a Japanese spy and hold him two days without even the executive department at Washington hearing of it. The name of the Jap spy caught on the coast was Damaroto.

This country has nothing to fear from immoral people. Immoral citizens constitute our menace.

The Rev. Charles Aked must feel that he has made good in his new position as pastor of Rockefeller's church in New York, since he has not only applied for citizenship, but, according to news dispatches, denounced the monarchical form of government and the house of lords. We look for an early denial of that story from the doctor. He may have praised America and American institutions, and possibly, drawn invidious comparisons between the moral conditions of the two countries, for it is common knowledge that the American conscience is a more poignant instrument than is the custom blunted monitor of our British cousins; but we doubt the allegation that Dr. Aked denounced his native land. That doesn't sound like an Englishman, and, what is more, we don't like to hear a man talk that way about his native land. It indicates a shallowness of feeling.

It is so easy to distort the truth, that some proficient and experienced liars, have deserted the field of pure romance for the more certainly remunerative, but less honorable calling of furnishing misinformation about the government to partisan newspapers. Washington boasts the flower of this journalistic cult.

Frank owns a large stable of good goers, but has bought and leased others to make sure his success on the circuit. He will take from Paducah "Directly Boy" and "Loleta," the latter the pacer which lowered the track record here unpaired, and both of which are leased for the racing season from the West Kentucky Stock farm stables. FALLS TO GROUND
DEATH STRICKEN

Tell Billingsley Dies Suddenly This Morning

Prominent Farmer, Succumbs as He Is Climbing Into His Buggy at Home.

WELL KNOWN IN THIS SECTION.

While in the act of getting into his buggy to go to Metropolis, Mr. Tell Billingsley, 68 years old, a prominent farmer of the Grahamville section, dropped dead of heart disease in view of members of the family this morning at 6 o'clock. He never spoke after being stricken, and although everything possible was done for him, he expired in a few minutes after falling to the ground.

Mr. Billingsley arose early this morning and went to the barn yard to feed. Later he informed his wife that he would go to Metropolis, Ill., only a short distance from his farm, and went out to hitch up his horse. His family assisted him in putting the things he intended carrying with him in the vehicle. He finished hitching and started to put his foot on the step when he reeled and fell, grasping at his heart. His wife ran to his assistance, and found him unconscious. Dr. S. Z. Holland, of Grahamville, was summoned, but too late. The aged farmer died within a few moments after his wife reached him. Dr. Holland pronounced the cause heart disease.

Mr. Billingsley was born in this state and for years had lived on his farm south of Grahamville on the Metropolis road, about 10 miles from Paducah. He was married and leaves a wife and two children Miss Mamie Billingsley and Mr. T. Billingsley. He leaves two nephews in Paducah, Messrs. Hall and R. A. Billingsley, the well known saloon men, and Mr. John P. Billingsley a nephew, of Bellevue, Tex. Mrs. L. C. Lieber, of Pine Bluff, Ark., is a niece. He was a member of the Baptist church and the funeral will be conducted tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. The burial will be in the family cemetery near Grahamville.

IN THE COURTS

Police Court.

Allen Fisher, for the alleged theft of a shirt from Ward Pendley, was held to the county court, but County Judge R. T. Lightfoot dismissed him. Neal Long was fined $20 and costs for non-support of his child. Other cases: L. J. Green, jumping on and off trains while in motion, continued; Frank Reynolds, colored, breach of peace, continued.

In Bankruptcy.

Referee in Bankruptcy E. W. Bagby has confirmed the exemptions recommended by the trustee of the estate of Mrs. Byrnes Clark, bankrupt, of Livingston county. Her assets amounted to but what the law allows exempted. Charlie Osborn, a railroad man of this city, this morning filed a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $277 with no assets. His creditors are Paducahans chiefly, the biggest item in the list being Fritz Metzger, amount $120. Other bills are small.

Referee in bankruptcy E. W. Bagby has declared dividends in the following cases, the amount to be fixed on the filing of reports from trustees: J. H. Nelson & Son, Livingston county; J. D. Foley, Livingston county; J. D. Sowers, city. In the Nelson case about $2,000 is to be distributed and in the Sowers case about $1,200.

Deeds Filed.

George W. Grief and others to Rainey & Jenkins, property on South Fourth street, $225.
O. I. Dossett to W. D. Boaz, property in the O'Bryan addition, $200.

President and Motorman.

Much has been said about Mr. Roosevelt's belligerency, and, in one way, this also goes to prove his innate democracy. He has a temper and a fighting spirit that is astonishingly like the ordinary American's well known propensities along this line; and the dignity of his office does not abate this tendency one bit.

The time the trolley car smashed into him at Pittsfield, Mass., and killed his beloved bodyguard, Craig, he grinned the spirit at once. The motorman who had run into him was arrested and brought up to him.

"What do you mean by such stupidity?" demanded the president, with a vehemence that showed his anger. "Do you know that if you weren't an ordinary motorman I'd punch your face?"

The motorman cheerfully took up the gauntlet with: "You would, would you? Well, come on an' do it if you weren't the president. I'd make mighty short work of you."—Success Magazine.

"Would Mrs. Hanks repeat a scandal?"
"Not if she could think up an original one."—Puck.

TEACHING

PRINCIPLES OF CITIZENSHIP AND MORALITY ADVOCATED.

Educators Decide to Take High Ground in Instructing Young America.

Los Angeles, July 13.—National Educational association concluded its labors today with the adoption of resolutions, principal among which was: "Resolved, that it is the sense of this association that it is the duty of teachers of this republic to at once enter upon a systematic course of instructions which shall embrace not only broader patriotism, but a more extended course of moral instruction, especially in regard to the rights and duties of citizenship, the right of property, security and sacredness of human life."

Second in importance to this was a resolution upon a subject of simplified spelling, endorsing the work of the Simplified Spelling board and directing the secretary of the association to adopt a shorter style of all the three hundred selected words in the publications of the association. It carried by a vote of 209 to 22 although it was claimed many other than active members voted in the affirmative.

DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, July 13.—There is no customary complaint of mid-summer dullness in general trade channels while the demand for seasonal fabrics is rapidly depleting stocks that threatened to be carried over. Brisk retail trade is accompanied by more prompt collections. Jobbers and wholesalers are receiving liberal orders for fall and winter merchandise and interior buyers are active in primary markets. Manufacturing returns all of large orders on hand and very heavy production during the first half of the year. Lower prices for pig iron were due to larger output and more prompt deliveries and reduced the premiums paid for early shipments. Quiet conditions prevail in primary markets for cotton goods but mills are fully occupied and there is no prospect of easier terms, owing to large amount of business under contract unless extensive cancellations are received.

Woolens are not active, new lines of men's wear being opened daily without attracting much attention and little development is anticipated before the end of the month. A little increase is noted in the demand for hides and further improvement is anticipated.

The leather trade broadens as contracts are received by shoe factories.

Bank Clearings.

New York, July 13.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet's for the principal cities in the United States for the past week was $2,982,623,000 against $2,845,919,000 in the corresponding week last year.

Church Notes.

The Rev. T. J. Owen and Dr. Prayner are having success with the revival they began last week at Little Cypress. A number of additions have been had to the church. The revival will continue for two weeks yet.

At Lone Oak the Rev. W. J. Naylor began a revival last night under a tent and the services will be held both in the day and evening for several weeks. Miss Lorena Naylor, who was graduated from the Memphis Conference Female Institute at Jackson, Tenn., several weeks ago, will have charge of the music. The music will be an interesting feature of the revival.

Tomorrow evening at the First Christian church, Seventh and Jefferson streets, a union temperance rally will be held by the Rev. John T. Brown, of Louisville, and who has been conducting a revival at the Tenth street Christian church. "No services will be held at the Tenth street Christian church or the Broadway Methodist church and probably one or two other churches, so the congregations may attend the rally. It will be an interesting service and Dr. Brown is a charming speaker and holds the minute attention of his audience. Dr. Brown has recently returned from a 20 months' tour of the world and his address will be along the line of the progress of local option. Dr. Brown was in New Zealand.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the county court house Dr. Brown will deliver an address on "Oriental Glimpses" for the benefit of the Tenth street Christian church. The revival that was in progress at the church for several weeks has been closed on account of the warm weather. There were 14 additions to the church.

Indians Perish of Hunger.

Quebec, July 12.—A dispatch from Roberval reports the death from starvation of twenty-one Indians in the depths of the forest about Lake Mistassini. The Indians left Mistassini, 300 miles north of Lake St. John, about the end of March, intending to make the journey to Roberval on foot. Their provisions failed them and they succumbed one after another, only one of the party surviving.

The car, owned by Mr. Williamson, a wealthy lumberman, was ruined. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson both suffered collar bones and internal injuries, while the others were badly sprained, cut and bruised.

The Central American States.

Very few people have a correct impression of the size of Central America as a whole or of the states taken separately. California seems like a large state. It extends 770 miles along the Pacific and has an extreme width of 375 miles. If California were laid end for end on Central America, it would cover it, with the exception of Salvador, which is just the size of New Jersey and 100 miles a little over 7,000 square miles. Stated in another way, if Central America were lifted bodily and laid down on our Atlantic coast, it would just hide all New England, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. In short, it has a combined area of approximately 167,000 square miles. Individually, aside from Salvador, already mentioned, the states could be compared as follows: Honduras to Pennsylvania, 45,000 square miles; Guatemala to Mississippi, 47,000 square miles; Nicaragua to New York, 49,000; Costa Rica to Vermont and New Hampshire, 18,000.—Review of Reviews.

HOPKINS-YATES IN COMBINATION

Are Political Debts About to be Paid Off?

Talk of Organizing Anti-Deneen Forces in Illinois For Great Struggle Soon to Come.

GOSSIP FROM SPRINGFIELD.

Springfield, Ill., July 13.—Senator A. J. Hopkins has it in mind to prove to his friend, former Governor Richard Yates, that he is not unmindful of the efforts Mr. Yates made when governor to land him in the United States senate. Mr. Hopkins, with the aid of Senator Culion, is endeavoring to get a federal appointment for Mr. Yates, and the report is to the effect that he will be successful.

Furthermore it is reported in state administration circles that Mr. Yates will accept the appointment and get out and hustle for the Aurora statesman.

Mr. Yates himself today declined to discuss the matter in any way. His friends were a trifle more communicative, but only in the way of pointing in the direction of the state house.

Enough for a Headache.

Should the rumor prove true the consequent complications are enough to make a politician's head ache when he considers them.

Mr. Yates made Mr. Hopkins senator, but Mr. Hopkins refused to help make Mr. Yates governor again. Mr. Yates made Mr. Deneen governor. Mr. Deneen, in a quiet fashion, tried to make Mr. Yates senator. Mr. Yates considers that Mr. Deneen's efforts were entirely too quiet.

William E. Mason, who was unmade as senator when Mr. Hopkins was made, tried to help make Mr. Yates senator.

Mr. Hopkins makes Mr. Yates a federal appointee. Mr. Mason tries to make himself a senator again and to unmake Mr. Hopkins.

Mr. Yates tries to make Mr. Hopkins senator again and to prevent the making of Mason.

Mr. Deneen tries to make himself governor again, and Mr. Yates tries to unmake him.

If there are a few more changes which can be made in the relative position of the foregoing gentlemen towards one another it is likely they will be made before the primaries. Just what appointment Mr. Yates is to get is not known. He himself says he knows nothing of it, but announces that he will take part in the coming primary campaign.

Yates Called It Bribery, Once.

The last time Mr. Yates was offered anything by the federal organization it was the Mexican embassy job at a salary of $17,000 a year. This was when he could have made Frank O. Lowden governor by throwing his delegates to him, and was the consideration for which the position was to be given. Mr. Yates refused to accept it, and later, when running for the senate, gave it as his opinion that the offer was equivalent to an attempt at bribery.

Several weeks ago Mr. Yates received an invitation from Senator Hopkins to visit him in Chicago, and got as far as the Auditorium Annex on his way there when he was deflected by some friends and persuaded to return home. He did so, but returned to Chicago last week, visiting Mayor Busse, and later conferring with several of the leading men in the federal organization at the Great Northern hotel.

In the estimation of Republicans throughout the state Senator Hopkins plainly is under undischarged obligations to Mr. Yates and until he squares accounts in some fashion acceptable to the former governor will be regarded as a bad debtor politically.

Anti-Deneen Men Called.

Senator Hopkins' friends are endeavoring to get something like definite information from the opponents of Governor Deneen to indicate what likelihood there is of a candidate being brought out against him in Chicago.

They have asked that a conference of anti-Deneen Republicans of Cook county be held to consider the general proposition of opposing the governor and to consider candidates with whom to oppose him, and they want the information before Saturday if they can get it.

It is not understood that Mr. Hopkins is strongly desirous of having an opposition candidate brought out so long as no combinations are made against him, but if one is to be backed by Mayor Busse he wants to get early information and tie up to that candidate.

Deneen, by making a sudden jump into activity with his petitions and his "Deneen Republican clubs," has started the wheels moving that were not expected to be turned for a couple of months, and his opponents realize that he is gaining ground down state while they are standing still.

Why It Worries Hopkins.

Mr. Hopkins realizes that this activity is dangerous and that the danger increases so long as men who might be candidates do nothing but run around in circles. Hence his desire to get the Cook county situation made clearer at once. His friends have asked Mayor Busse and other men who are expected to back an anti-Deneen candidate to consult with William Lorimer, Postmaster Campbell, and other opponents of the governor, and get to a decision as early as possible. Mr. Hopkins will not know how to trim his sails until he knows from what direction the wind will blow.

Not many of the members of the Deneen organization will be at the Hopkins conference in Chicago next Saturday, and they are likely to be limited to the men who were Senator Culion's supporters and who now are part of the state administration organization.

BROKEN HEART CAUSES DEATH

Mrs. Albert Ahrens. Refused Money by Husband, Too Proud to Ask Help.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 12.—Though silent in death, the voice of Mrs. Albert C. Ahrens keeps calling to her friends and whispering a life secret that has given rise to a suspicion that the woman who dropped dead on the street was not the victim of physical ills, so much as the strange malady that gnawed at her heart and made death welcome as bringing with it a surcease of sorrow. While the direct cause of her death was a hemorrhage, Mrs. Ahrens' friends, knowing what they do now, are inclined to the belief that the fatal attack was superinduced by anguish of mind and that in reality she died of a broken heart.

From all accounts the woman was facing starvation and for months past had been living on the charity of friends. The day before she died, according to Mrs. H. Blackburn, at whose residence she lived, Mrs. Ahrens received a letter from her husband, who has offices in the Columbia theater in St. Louis, refusing her request for money and taking her to task it is said, because her credit was not better. She had long owed for her board and was in debt to Miss Anna Walters, with whom she boarded when she first came to Colorado Springs nearly two years ago, and who it appears has all along befriended her. When Miss Walters closed her boarding house she took Miss Ahrens with her to the home of Mrs. Blackburn and was personally responsible for Mrs. Ahrens' board.

Misunderstanding.

Citizens of prohibition Kansas had presented a silver service to a battleship. "But how do you reconcile yourself to the punch bowl?" was asked of one of the delegation.

"Punch bowl!" ejaculated the Kansan. "Goodness! We thought that big thing was for oatmeal mush!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Between 1780 and 1906 the English Derby was won 52 times by plain "misters," 27 times by lords, 20 times by baronets, 17 times by dukes, 4 times by princes, 3 times by colonels, and once each by an admiral, a baron, and a count.

TWO CLEVER PLAYS FOR CHURCH GUILD

Witnessed by Large Audience at Wallace Park Casino

"At the Foot of the Wall" and "The Romancers" Presented by Capable Amateurs.

THOSE WHO PARTICIPATED.

Before a large audience the two little plays, "At the Foot of the Wall" and "The Romancers" were presented under the supervision of Miss Anna Bird Stewart, by local talent for the benefit of the Guild of the Grace Episcopal church at the Wallace park Casino last night. Some delay was occasioned in raising the curtain, owing to the agreement not to start the show until after the moving picture show, but the audience was well rewarded for its patience. "At the Foot of the Wall," is a dainty, little one-act play in which Miss Anna Bird Stewart and Mr. Henry Cave took the leading roles, and were assisted by Misses Helen Van Meter, Lucette Soule, Saldee Smith, Gladys Coburn, Elizabeth Kirkland, Lucia Powell and Sarah Corbett. It was a bit refreshing acting and the applause came frequently.

During the intermission vocal solos were sung by Mrs. David Flournoy and Miss Ethel Calissi. Miss Julia Scott and Messrs. Richard Scott and Robert Scott. Each singer was compelled to respond to an encore.

"The Romancer" is another clever little French play, and was in capable hands. The story is one of fathers, owning adjoining estates, who are desirous of combining their property. Each has only one child, and Percinet falls in love with Sylvette. But the fathers to encourage the young lovers appear angry and forbid the two meeting. A mock abduction is arranged and as the bandits are making away with Sylvette, the young hero comes to the rescue and the fathers know everything is peaceful then.

The costumes were historically accurate and fine.

Miss Anna Bird Stewart as Sylvette had an opportunity for a fine bit of work and she fulfilled all expectations. Mr. Sanders E. Clay as Percinet, the lover, proved he is an actor of no mean ability. Messrs. Charles Cox and Henry Cave as the fathers, and Mr. Cade Davis as Sraforel, the chief of the bandits, had good parts, and their work pleased the audience. The musicians and swordsmen added to the effectiveness of the scene. They were, Clark Bondurant, Rankin Kirkland and Sam Hughes.

For selling the most tickets Master Lawrence Powell was given a signet ring. A neat little sum was cleared by the Guild from the entertainment.

Gertie (gushingly)—Oh, pa, I do want you to hear some of Gussy's funny sayings—he's so humorous! Pa—I've heard some, especially the night before last, when he asked for your hand.

AN OLD MULE STEERS HOME MADE AUTOMOBILE

Hartford City, Ind., July 12.—With a dilapidated covered wagon propelled by a little gasoline engine and an old army mule as a steering "apparatus," Al Martin, a former resident of this city, pulled into town from Atlanta, Ga., having been on the road since the 9th of last October. Martin's odd outfit was driven around the public square and attracted much attention. Martin made the horseless carriage himself, and says that he can travel at the rate of 15 miles an hour with the outfit, that is, when the mule is not in the way. The singular mechanism is complete except the steering parts. The trip has been a long one, he says, owing to many accidents he has encountered on the road, his machine having broken down several times, necessitating delays of from two to three days at a time.

"Of course, Tammy," said the Sunday school teacher, "you'd like to be an angel, wouldn't you?" "Well—er—yes'm," replied Tammy, "but I'd like to wait till I can be a full-grown angel with gray whiskers."—Philadelphia Press.

"Now, Mason, be reasonable. Can I ask anybody else if I resemble Philip Anson when made up to represent him?"

"Perhaps not, but you ought to have warned me. Besides, I am worried today."

"What has happened now?"

"I went to report myself at South-west police station. Who should I find

"Hold hard, old chap," he said in his natural voice.

there but Bradley, the chap we used to call Sailor. He is an inspector now, and of course he knew me at once."

"What of that?"

"He pretended to take an interest in me and tried to lead me on to talk about you."

"The devil he did!"

"Oh, I know their ways. They can't do anything to me as long as I show up regularly and keep a clean slate."

"But what about me?"

"I said you had been a good friend—there was no use in denying that I was here pretty often—and that we both thought of emigrating."

"Good! We will!"

"Not me. I have a score to settle!"

"Patience, my worthy friend. Your score shall be settled in full. I can't prevent it even if I would. Do you think I have been idle or that I spend Langdon's money on a wild goose chase? Not me. Langdon has taken my advice at last. He has met this character with whom he is so infatuated. She almost recognized him, but he pretended such complete ignorance of her and even of London that her suspicions were quieted."

"What good is that to us?"

"Little, but it gave him the opportunity to try and ingratiate himself. He failed most completely, and why?"

"How do I know? He is an ass anyway."

"Exactly. More than that; the young lady is in love with Philip Anson."

"I'm not."

"But he is in love with her. At first both Mrs. Atherton and the girl kept him at arm's length. She was too poor, too rich. That difficulty was smoothed over quite recently, and they meet now nearly every day. Langdon hasn't a dog's chance, and if all goes well, the happy pair will soon be off to Norway or Switzerland for their honeymoon."

"Oh, indeed! Then where does all your clever scheming come in? Why have you held me back? He went to Sussex. You wouldn't let me follow him. He was out late several nights on his motor car along the North road. I would have met him and smashed his face in with a life preserver, but you held me back. What are you driving at? What's the game?"

"You shall see."

Grenier went to a cupboard and took out a small box. From this he produced a single check and several slips of paper on which were written names and signatures.

"That is an old check signed by Philip Anson," he said coolly. "Here is his signature repeated several times for amusement. It only needs a man of action like you, an accomplished actor like myself, to possess the necessary nerve—the nerve that risks all on a supreme coup—and we will be not only rolling in money, but able to enjoy life pleasantly in any part of the world we select, even in London when the wind changes a little."

"You must talk plainly if you want me to understand you," said Mason doggedly.

"Very well. You think I am somewhat like Philip Anson at this moment?"

"His image, confound him!"

"No; not his image. I would not humbug his friends. I might puzzle them for a moment at a distance, but let them speak with me, and I am done. It is sufficient that I resemble him. But the handwriting—that is good?"

"First class."

"There I agree with you. My skill in that direction has been admitted by three bank clerks and an Old Bailey judge. And now for the coup. If you intend to kill this young gentleman, you may as well kill him to our mutual advantage. There is no gain in being hanged for him unnecessarily,

Mason glared at him in silence. "I see I must keep to the point. We must, by some means, inveigle him to a place where you can work your sweet pleasure on him. Ah, that interests you! It must be known that he is going to that place. It must be quite certain that he leaves it."

"Leaves it?"

"Yes. I, Philip Anson the second, will leave it. I will lay my plans quite surely. I will even telegraph my movements to his fiancée and to his agent, Abingdon, who used to be a stipendiary magistrate at Clerkenwell. Now, don't interrupt. You spoil my train of thought. Philip Anson will live again for days after you have—er—disposed of him. By that time you will have established such an alibi that an archangel's testimony would not shake it. Then Philip Anson will disappear, vanish into thin air, and with him a hundred thousand or more of his own money, some in gold, but mostly in notes which will have been changed so often as to defy any one to trace them. As a precautionary measure, he will go out of his way to annoy or insult the young lady whom he intends to make his wife, and that alone will supply an explanation, of a sort, for his wish to conceal his movements. With proper management, Philip Anson should leave the map without exciting comment for weeks after he is dead, and when the weeks grow into months people will class his disappearance with the other queer mysteries familiar to every one who reads the newspapers. Neat, isn't it?"

"Too neat. You can't do it."

"Have you or I evolved the idea?"

Who runs the greatest risk, the man who strikes one blow and hides a disfigured corpse or he who calmly faces hundreds of men and says he is Philip Anson?"

"I don't care about risk, but if it comes to that I suppose you are the more likely to be found out."

"Thank you. You see my way at last. In any event, you are safe. Even suppose I am discovered, will I split on you? Will I add a charge of murder to one of forgery? Not much! I tell you the scheme is workable, not by blind bunglers, but by clever men. I admit I haven't the nerve to kill any body, nor would I care to suggest this present arrangement to an accomplice merely to make money. But if you are resolved to end Philip Anson's earthly pilgrimage I can't prevent you, and I fail to see any reason why I shouldn't profit by the transaction."

"What about me when the thing is done?"

"Oh, you are beginning to appreciate the other side of events. Now, we will assume that Philip Anson has been dead a couple of months and Victor Grenier has amassed a fortune by a sheer run of luck on the turf; it is fairly evident that Victor Grenier must fling with Jocky Mason or the latter can make the world too hot to hold him, even if an old friend were unkind enough to refuse to disgorge unless under pressure."

Mason's brows wrinkled in thought. The project sounded plausible enough. Determined as he was to wreak his vengeance on Philip, Grenier's ingenious idea not only offered him a reliable means of escape, but promised a rich harvest of wealth. Certainly it was worth trying. Not once, but many times, during the preceding month Grenier had withstood the murderer's willing hand. When it did fail, what keener satisfaction could he have than the knowledge that he would be enriched by the deed?

"I can't see ahead like you," said

Mason at last. "But I will obey orders. You tell me where and when; I will be there."

Grenier shifted his feet uneasily. "I don't quite mean that," he said. "I will acquaint you with certain facts on which you may rely absolutely. I will forthwith act myself on the assumption that the real Philip Anson won't interfere with me. That is all."

The other man guffawed most unpleasantly. This sophistry did not appeal to him.

"Put it any way you like," he said. "You can depend on me for my part of the bargain."

"And you can be quite certain that in a very little while we need not trouble our active wits any further as to the whereabouts to enjoy life. I have thought this idea out in all its bearings. It simply can't fail. Come, let us drink to a glorious future."

He reached for a decanter, but a sudden knock at the door jarred the nerves of both men considerably.

"See who is there," whispered Grenier, whose face showed white through the paint and grease it bore.

"What about you in that rig out?" growled the stronger ruffian.

"I will slip into my bedroom. Quick! See who it is."

Langdon entered.

"Where's Victor?" he said eagerly.

"In his room. He will be here in a moment. What's the matter? You look pretty grim."

"I've had a piece of wretched luck. I was at Mrs. Atherton's 'at home' today, when Anson turned up. I met him without winking, but he knew me at once. He called me outside and treated me like a dog."

"He did, eh?"

"Yes. It was no good trying to bluff him. Only on the guarantee that I would never meet Miss Atherton again would he consent not to expose me. I'm done. My last chance is gone. I have wasted my money on Grenier's mad notions and was fool enough to think you meant what you said when you swore to have Anson's life."

Grenier, who had heard every word, reappeared.

"Does Philip Anson know that Mr. James Clifton Langdon is Sir Philip Morland's stepson?" he asked.

"I can't tell. What does it matter, anyhow?"

"Think, man, think! Does he even know your name?"

"He can easily find it out."

"Not he. This young spark has a fine sense of honor. You promised to keep away from the lady in future. He will never even mention you. And your money is not lost. It has been well spent, every farthing. Take care Miss Evelyn does not see you until she is heartbroken about Philip Anson. She will be, you can be quite sure of it. Then your opportunity will come."

"Bu-z-z-z-z."

Drawn thither by the feeling perhaps that there he would be among friends, a happy, don't care individual wandered this morning into the room on the top floor of the city hall, where the council committee on gas, oil and electric light was dozing over the Chicago Telephone company's ordinance.

He had a friendly, all-inclusive smile, but a wild look in his eye—the sort of eye which might come of efforts to understand the telephone company's arguments in favor of measured versus flat rates. For a long while he dozed quietly to the pleasant murmur of ex-Judge Payne's Virginian accents.

Finally he awoke, and after watching six of the aldermen nod automatic affirmations of the telling points made by counsel for the company, rose unsteadily to his feet.

"Bu-z-z-z-z," he said, waving his hands distractedly before his face "Bu-z-z-z-z." "Souse me. Don't mind me, gentlemen. Bu-z-z-z-z-z."

He looked around, but concluded that he was still among friends and sat down.

"Wise guy," he murmured, as he comprehended the argument then issuing from the lips of General Manager Angus S. Hibbard. "Wise old guy!"

But this was too much. An officer was called and the critic gently removed from the room. He gave his name as John Fitzgerald.—Chicago Post.

MAYFIELD.

Mayfield, Ky., July 13.—Philip O. S. Howard, 43 years old, son of John I. A. Howard and one of the most prominent citizens of the county, died Thursday afternoon at his home two miles northwest of Louisville, of erysipelas. His death was rather sudden as he was in apparent good health although he had been complaining at intervals for the past year. He had been feeling much better during the past week and appeared in brighter spirits than for some time. He was a prosperous farmer, good neighbor and an honorable citizen. A member of the Christian church he had been instrumental in doing much good. His wife and five children survive him. The wife is a sister of former Sheriff S. R. Douthett, of Mayfield. Mrs. Howard is also a cousin of William Sherburne, foreman of the grand jury at this term of court.

Sam A. Cross, the dairyman, whose horse was killed and his milk wagon destroyed by an Illinois Central train at the Broadway crossing in this city on January 19, lost his suit for $10,000 in the circuit court, the jury deciding that the railroad was not to blame. It is probable that Mr. Cross will appeal his case.

Dave McAllister was given a judgment for $175 against the Illinois Central.

The first batch of indictments returned by the present grand jury number 33. Among those in the list were sixteen against A. J. Riley for retailing intoxicating beverages.

Six against Ed Stunston for selling intoxicating beverages. The name of the beverages is alleged to be pale ale.

Sam Crews, seduction.

Frank Clapp, taking tobacco plants without the consent of the owner.

Walter Jackson, detaining a woman.

Reuben Kelly, petit larceny.

Pete Moss, selling liquor.

John Newman, selling intoxicating liquors.

George Rhoades, detaining a woman.

John Spann, housebreaking.

A report from Water Valley states that quite a storm visited that community Wednesday afternoon. A big barn belonging to John Elliot was blown down and numerous fences and trees were destroyed by the force of the wind. No lives were lost and the property damage is comparatively light.

F. E. Webb has received a letter from Judge J. W. Hooker who went to Dawson for his health, stating that he is no better but will return home today.

Postmaster L. W. Key is able to be up from his illness superinduced from a fainting spell at the race track last week during one of the hot afternoons.

Another Nature Faker.

The bird known in America as the road runner not only has a keen sense of humor but delights in playing practical jokes. It is about the size of an ordinary hen, but there is more intellect in its tail feathers than in a whole barnyard of ordinary fowls.

It dearly loves to make a fool of any stray dog. The dog sees the road runner in a field and starts out after it. The roadrunner moves off with six inch steps. This seems hopeful to the dog and he trots along sure of fun.

Pretty soon he puts in more speed, but the roadrunner keeps just as far ahead. At length the dog is going at his level best, but the roadrunner doesn't even ruffle a feather. Then when the dog finally lies down to whine out his rage the joking bird calmly pulls up and resumes scratching for worms as if for dear life.

The roadrunner has another standing joke which it plays off on the rattlesnake.

When it chances to find one lying asleep it cackles for its mate and the two gather prickly pear leaves, which they pile in a circle round the snake. When the hedge is completed they wake his snakeship up with a sharp peck and skip off to a distance to enjoy the fun. The snake tries to get out but can't, and often starves to death. It is no uncommon thing in California to find dead snakes within circles of prickly pears, and the authentic reports of naturalists make the roadrunners responsible for these tragic deaths.

Genius is the ability to get along without tools, when tools are too high to buy.

After arranging to try William Waddell, colored, for alleged lunacy, County Judge R. T. Lightfoot yesterday afternoon discharged the jury without entering into the evidence. He does not believe that Waddell is insane, and will let the matter be passed on in circuit court. Waddell and wife shot several dozen bullets at policemen and into residences at Sixteenth street and Kentucky avenue several weeks ago. ## LEGS CRUSHED FROM KNEES DOWN

Mitchell Harval, Colored, is Brought to I. C. Hospital

Was Working Near Memphis When He Met With Accident That Crippled Him.

GENERAL RAILROAD NEWS.

With both legs crushed from above his knees to his feet, Mitchell Harval, colored, 39 years old, an Illinois Central brakeman of the Tennessee division of the road, was brought to Paducah this morning at 1:30 o'clock on fast train, No. 14, and placed in the hospital. His legs may have to be amputated, but the surgeons will await developments.

Harval was working at Woodstock, Tenn., a short distance out of Memphis at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon when he was switching a cut of bad order cars into a siding, and was caught by chains. He was thrown to the ground and the wheels passing over his legs reduced them in places to a pulp.

While on top of a car setting the brakes, George Crouch, colored, an Illinois Central brakeman, at Marion, yesterday stepped on a nail running it through his right foot and nearly causing him to fall from the car. He is in the I. C. hospital for treatment.

Fireman H. E. Dycus is off on a leave of absence in Louisville packing his furniture and preparing to remove his family to Paducah. He is on the "highball" passenger runs between Paducah and Louisville on the Illinois Central.

Engineer Jack Rucker, of the I. C., is ill and off duty today.

Mr. Frank Glisson, of the Illinois Central machine shops, has recovered after a seven weeks' illness, and returned to work this morning.

Mr. Gilbert Bailey, clerk in the Illinois central round house, is ill today and off duty.

Mr. Ernest Rehkopf, the Illinois central fireman, is improving from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

The Bernice was finished and put into the river today from the marine ways. It is reported from Evansville that the Bernice has been sold by Capt. Frank Fliton of New Harmony, Ind., to Capt. Douglas Jones, The City of St. Joseph will be finished next Thursday or Friday.

Fifty-two excursionists will be brought in from Mt. Vernon, Ind. Sunday by the Joe Fowler Monday at noon. The John Hopkins was the Evansville packet today.

The towboat Katherine returned to Paducah yesterday with another barge and left after coaling for the Sisters Islands where the big model barge went aground Thursday. The grounded barge will be lightened and as the river is rising slightly, the Katherine doubtless will get it off without much trouble.

The Harth brought in a tow of coal for the West Kentucky Coal company last night from Caseyville.

The Illinois Central tug, Lizzie B. Archbold, of Brookport, is lying at the foot of Washington street receiving repairs to its propeller. The Jackson foundry is casting the broken part.

Henry F. Kopf has returned from a visit to Ohio river towns and once more is holding the register for the West Kentucky Coal company.

Captain Frank Cassidy, of Cairo, is in the city today on business, having come up last night on the Dick Fowler.

Captain Will Green, of the H. A. Petter Supply company, has returned from a trip on the road.

Pleasure must end sometime, and the Georgia Lee will unload a number of Paducahans this afternoon who made the round trip to Cincinnati.

The Kentucky will clear for the Tennessee river this evening at 6 o'clock with the usual big trip.

A cow was shipped this morning on the Dick Fowler to St. Louis. The cow will be reloaded at Cairo by a St. Louis packet, while if she had been loaded on the Savannah this week she would have gone straight through and on one of the packets of the line interested in the local wharftown. The explanation of the unusual routing of the cow is found in the cattle quarantine laws. Packets that handle southern cattle cannot handle cattle from any other section. The quarantine line runs through Perry county, Tenn., and if the Savannah or any other packet takes on cattle below that line, they must be handled exclusively for the rest of that trip. The laws are so strict that southern cattle cannot be driven through the streets of St. Louis, but must be hauled in wagons to prevent the spread of any southern disease germs they may have.

The Lydia arrived late yesterday from the Cumberland river and took its tow down to Joppa. The Lydia will leave Wednesday after ties.

The Henrietta left today for the Tennessee river after ties.

The river is on a stand here with a stage of 10.4. On July 13 last year the stage was 6. Business has been fine at the wharf all week.

There will be no Chattanooga packet this week, as only one packet running throws it here every two weeks.

The Dunbar will arrive Sunday night from Nashville and leave Monday at noon for the same city.

Both the Nellie and the C. M. Pate will be finished at the dry docks next week.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon will continue rising during the next two days. At Paducah and Cairo will remain about stationary or fall slowly during the next 12 to 24 hours.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, not much change during the next 24 hours.

The Mississippi from Chester to Cairo, will remain about stationary during the next 24 hours.

LONDON WORRIED MORE THAN WE ARE

Sees Some Oriental Problem
Confronting Her

President Roosevelt and Jap Foreign Ministers Give Out Peace Statements.

SITUATION IS CLEARED UP.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 13.—An official statement announcing "thoroughly good understanding and fundamental friendliness" between the United States and Japan was issued by President Roosevelt today through Secretary Loeb after the departure of Admiral Yamamoto and Ambassador Aoki from Sagamore Hill. The statement follows:

"The president had a long interview with Admiral Baron Yamamoto and it was most satisfactory in every way. It simply confirms what had already been made clear by Ambassador Aoki showing a thoroughly good understanding between the two governments and fundamental friendliness between the two nations."

Japanese Minister Talks.

Tokio, July 13.—Viscount Hayaishi, Japanese minister of foreign affairs, made the following statements in an interview today:

"The governments, Washington and Tokio, are conducting negotiations in perfect accord. Japan is availing herself of America's good will, and no hitch whatever is apprehended. Until the new treaty comes up for discussion Japan has no right to agitate against a restriction of the number of her emigrants. Her demands for the present consists simply in that Japanese be protected against provocation, but for the rest American judicial authorities must be left to deal with the solution. My government does not look with suspicion upon the despatch of the American fleet to the Pacific. Since America is moving this fleet within her territory waters, Japan can raise no objection."

London Is Worried.

London, July 13.—The weekly reviews comment gravely upon the Japanese-American situation. They express the belief that the immediate tension appears to have been relieved, but foresees it is not impossible in the more or less distant future, that the same problem should confront Great Britain that now confronts the United States. Colonists of Australia, Africa and Canada are as anxious as the people of California to exclude Japan. With all respect towards Japan the specter is unable to withhold its sympathy from the colonists.

With all sympathy and admiration for Japanese aspirations and Japanese themselves we must admit, the review concludes, that Great Britain's first and last duty is to her own flesh and blood.

Cuba.

A Gen. Castillo warns us about remaining in Cuba too long. He does not think such a course would be good for us. The Cubans, he tells us, want another try at self-government, and want it soon. Well, of course they will get another try. Our return to the island was distinctly upon that assurance, made by the president in a state document. As to the time for our departure, that is largely with the Cubans. They may hasten, or retard it. If they co-operate with us in our effort to put matters upon a firm basis we shall not tarry much longer. If, on the other hand, they talk foolishly, as General Castillo does, and threaten us with war and extermination, we shall go along a little more leisurely, in their interests as well as in our own. Uncle Sam doesn't relish being hustled, and especially while doing the work of a friendly trustee.—Washington Star.

In France the doctors claim on the estate of a deceased patient has precedence of all others.

MAY MARRY WITHOUT LICENSE

But It Applies Only to Those Who Have Been Man and Wife and Are Divorced.

Wichita, Kas., July 12.—A. McCanness, deputy probate judge of Sedgewick county, has ruled that where a man and a woman who have been divorced and wish to be married again it will not be necessary to procure a marriage license if they appear before the district court in which the case was decided after the signing of the decree that separated them.

This decision was the result of an application for a marriage license made by a man giving his name as Arthur Outland, of Montgomery county, Kansas. He was accompanied by a woman who was introduced by his former wife, and whose name had not been ordered changed by the decree of the district court of the county.

In summing up the case Judge Mc-

Canless said:

"While I could issue a license to such parties, it is not necessary. They can best be married again by merely having the decree set aside by the judge who made it. It is not necessary to have a ceremony performed and they may begin to live as man and wife at any time."

"These persons may take out a license and be married and allow the decree to thus become null and void. By marrying such would be the case. I do not approve of such a course, hence I told them to go before the Montgomery county court and have the decree set aside."

The man was about thirty years old, and his divorced wife was about twenty-five. She appeared as if she had been crying recently and his countenance denoted that he was laboring under some mental trouble. As they left the courthouse she reached for his hand and thus they walked down the court house steps.

Mr. Outland stated in reply to an inquiry that he and his wife, Ethel, had settled their differences and that they would try it all over again. He admitted that he was to blame for the divorce proceedings.

SMITHLAND.

Smithland, Ky., July 13.—Last Sunday evening at the residence of Mr. J. H. Robertson, his daughter, Miss Maude, and Mr. W. E. Heater were married. The wedding took place in the presence of only a few friends and relatives. Rev. R. A. LaRue officiating. Mr. Heater is a son of Mr. Jesse Heater, and is an energetic, highly respected young man.

The dwelling house of Mr. Clark Harp was destroyed by fire. Almost everything in the house was consumed in the flames. The loss is about $2,000; no insurance. Mr. Harp lived in the Sugar Creek neighborhood and had a beautiful home.

Dr. G. L. Crawford, some time ago, began a movement to have the Smithland cemetery cleaned up and put in an attractive condition. A popular subscription is being taken by Dr. Crawford and Mr. L. T. Worten has contracted to do the work and will begin soon.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the First State bank last Tuesday afternoon all the officials were re-elected. Another vice president was added. The officers are: David Adams, president; F. G. LaRue and H. A. Yancy, vice presidents; S. P. Berry, cashier; W. D. Bishop, L. H. Adams, L. C. Hibbs, C. B. Davis, C. H. Webb, Jr., J. C. Parsons, Thomas Evans, R. C. Leeper, F. G. LaRue, directors.—Livingston Echo.

A Submarine Earthquake.

Three French sardine trawlers, while engaged in fishing about 60 miles from Belleisle, declare themselves to have been the eye witnesses of a submarine earthquake. At a distance of about five miles from where they were the crews saw a dense black smoke rising from the water, and satisfied that a ship was on fire, they bore in that direction. No ship could they see or any trace of one, but from the water there continued to issue the cloud of smoke, and as they got nearer they also saw sheets of flame rise from time to time. In fear for their own safety, they drew back to their former position, whence at night they continued to see smoke and flame.—New York Tribune.

Idleness and negligence are little less than synonyms for final failure.

We Are in the Face of Going Up Prices and Advancing Markets

Don't it seem queer, a little odd, that a store should sell its goods for less than it can replace them? But that is just what this store is doing now in many instances. We are clearing out the stocks shaping for fall. Months ago—away ahead of time—in order to own fall merchandise to sell at low prices, we contracted with manufacturers for thousands and thousands of dollars worth of fall goods. We are now preparing to receive and take charge of this fall and winter merchandise. That partially accounts for our bargain prices to stimulate your patronage during this sale. We don't expect you to buy to please us, but because we make it greatly to your interest to buy now.
